NEW YORK, March 23.—The doubt ovar the outcome of the Cuban controversy between the United States and Spain was a depressing influence in the local stock market today, as it was in every market for securities in the world, thy, and the same influence weakened. In Farls the weakness of Spanish fours affected all other securities by symmatics markets in London and Berlin, the heaviness of American sulfroad socurities being an additional factor at the latter two centres. In the local exchange there was a well defined bull party whose operations were aftended with more or less success, thus subtracting very materially from the sum of the dypression. The motive publicly avowed by intrinsic vaires and by the political outlook. But it is doubtless influenced by intrinsic vaires and by the political outlook. But it is doubtless influenced also by the eachned condition of the market, which is full of short contracts waiting to be covered on the expected slump on anticipated decisive developments in the Cuban situative developments in the Cuban situative developments in the Cuban situative developments in the Cuban situation.

The Governor left Rachmond Monday on the Virginia oysier steamer Chesapeake for the tidewater district, and arrived at Norfock Monday night, this being the first st.p made. The Governor came to This section to look over the ground before appointing the State oyster coarm-sistoners, as he is not sure that the right men have applied for the position. There are live to be oppointed, and two of them will be from this district. From Norfolk the Executive went to Onancock, and it was from that place that the Chesapeake came to

A PRACTICE DRILL A PRACTICE DRILL.
Battery F, of the Fourth Artillery, tunned out in heavy marching order yesterday morning with their heavy guns and caissons for a practice march and drill. The lattery was marched over the Mill Creek Bridge and into Phrebus, and from there down toward Buckree Beach, where a short drill was participated in. At 11:30 orders the return to Fortress Monroe was made, and by the time that blace was rea, hed the turn to Foatress Monroe was made, and by the time that place was rea hed themen and field pieces were in a deeld-edity dusty condition.

The battery create quite a little interest on its return to Oid Point, and many persons curred out to witness the where the caunon and horses are kept, between the Chesapeake & Ohio depot, and after putting everything in a nice, clean centalion, were marched back to their quarters inside the fort.

No regular drill ground has been decided upon as yet. It was shought they would drill en the parade grounds, but Colonel Frink said "No," and no it was.

It was.
